About the Centre of Excellence

Centre of Excellence in Human Capital Development, a World Bank initiated Centre of Utkal University announces its first Faculty Development Programme on the topic "Pedagogical Excellence in Teaching Strategies". We invite applications from motivated faculty members and educators in Management, Economics, Commerce and related subjects. Recently, the pandemic has put before us both challenges as well as opportunities to reinvent teaching styles. Thus, we got the opportunity to design a programme that can provide significant value and benefit for the professional development of teachers

Background of the Programme

Destinies of nations are shaped in classrooms. In fact, classrooms are the places where the future citizens of the country are reared, trained, educated and motivated to accept the emerging challenges and overcome those deftly. Classrooms all over the world have gone through a massive transformation, from being teacher centric to student centric. Thus, the onus is on the teachers to rethink the pedagogy and help evolve new education and learning ecosystems. Building skills and competencies is at the heart of higher education. Teachers need to train and nurture the students' to lead businesses, social institutions, government and entrepreneurial ventures. Thus, there is an urgent need of transforming classrooms into talent factories and skill labs.

The programme intends to enhance classroom effectiveness by adopting innovative teaching practices as well as using new ways of engaging students. The major focus of the Faculty Development Programme is to upgrade the teaching style through the adoption of time-tested techniques such as case analyses, group discussions, interactive exercises and so on.
